1993 TOBACCO YEAR IN REVIEW

Weather conditions were the big story in the producing and marketing of the 1993 South Carolina flue-cured tobacco crop which amounted to producer sales of 103,239,800 pounds for $171,205,894 and an average per hundred pounds of $165.83.

This total from 26 warehouses on seven markets compared to 1992 sales of 103,749,368 pounds for $176,296,687.89 and an average per hundred pounds of $169.93.

State Climatologist David J. Smith said a weather summary for the Pee Dee area from February through September showed freezing, wet conditions in February and March, changing to drier conditions in April and May with May temperatures beginning to climb with a high of 92 degrees.

Dry weather continued in June with 17 days of temperatures higher than 90 degrees. July was plain HOT. There were 31 days of plus 90 degree weather and 11 days of better than 100 degrees.

The month of August included hot, dry days with 24 days of better than 90 degrees and 15 days with the heat index over 100 degrees. With the tobacco season winding down, September conditions showed a belated improvement in moisture and high temperatures.

The Federal-State Tobacco Market News reported "drought and intensive heat had some negative impact on the desirability of offerings, especially on quality of the crop" for the South Carolina Border North Carolina Flue-Cured Tobacco Markets.

"Grade averages," according to the Market News, "were higher than the previous year in early season, but decreases occurred in mid-season as upper stalk tobacco appeared on sales floors. The highest weekly average for the season was $175.67 per hundred pounds during the tenth week. The highest daily average was the $177.54 recorded Oct. 4. The overall composition of marketings was less desirable with the combined amount of low and poor quality increasing by 11 percentage points and good and fair offerings dropping by the same amount."

Flue-Cured Stabilization Corporation receipts for the season amounted to 71,005,794 pounds on the belt or 37.3 percent of net sales. This amount was the highest percentage to be placed under loan in a single season. In 1992, 25,934,000 pounds or 13.8 percent was accepted under loan.

Markets on the belt opened July 27 and closed Nov. 3., accounting for 56 sales days, five more than in '92. There were 12 sets of buyers on the 14 belt markets during the season.

This SEASON TO REMEMBER was a credit to South Carolina growers who worked under most difficult circumstances and to warehouse operators who marketed a most unusual year crop. Cooperation between growers, the South Carolina Department of Agriculture and the Clemson Extension Service led to an improvement in MH residues.
